What we offer

- Support for you to make your family life better
- Opportunities to try free activities as a family
- Help to talk about your family and plan changes
- No long waiting times or forms

Is this for me?

- Is alcohol having a negative impact on your family life?
- Would you value some support to help you?
- Do you have children up to age 18?
- This project is for families who are not already receiving support from Early Help or Children's Social Care

Who are we?

The Family Support Project is part of the Society of St. James, working in Portsmouth to provide vulnerable people. This project has been set up to support families to reduce the impact of alcohol.

What can your family expect from the Family Support Project?

A Family Worker will meet with your family to understand what is important to you and what changes you would like to make. This might mean meeting together as a whole family, or separately if that is more suitable. For example, it might be better to meet with parents first and then children.

Once you have made a family plan, your Family Worker will agree with you how often it would be helpful to meet and what kinds of support would be most useful for your family members and for you as a whole family.

The Family Support Project is available for families for 12 weeks at a time. If, after this time, there are things on your family plan which you would like ongoing support with, your Family Worker can support you to access further help in your community.
