

The educational psychology team work with school staff and professionals to promote the learning, social and emotional development of children and young people aged 0-25.

Children and families are at the heart of what we do and the well-being of the child is paramount in all our work.

Our expert team have a broad range of skills, knowledge, expertise and resources which means we can tailor our support to meet your specific needs.

We're involved in a range of panels and processes and work closely with health and social care colleagues. This allows us to work over time and collaboratively with services, schools, children and young people to ensure that the right support is in place at the right time.

Our competitive pricing structure ranges from £430 to £512 per day.

What we do:

- Consultation and assessment - to help you to understand the needs of children/young people and identify the best way forward to support them.
- INSET and Training - across a wide range of specialist knowledge areas
- Specialist interventions - including ELSA, Nurture groups and challenging behaviour consultations
- Systems and development - working with schools on policy development, training and support

What schools and parents say about us:

Excellent relationship with the school and parents.

Head Teacher

I believe that one of your main strengths is collaborative working.

Social Worker

You challenge my thinking and add your ideas to the discussion in a non-judgemental way, which helps me to move forward and feel confident in my practice.

Class Teacher

It is helpful for me that you have such a wide knowledge of appropriate interventions and resources because it enables us to support a range of needs within our school.

Inclusion Manager

User friendly reports with good explanations for parents and staff.

SENCo

Just a very big thank you for all that you have done.

Parent

They listen to what the schools needs are and work to try and achieve the best outcome possible for pupils, school and staff".

Deputy Head Teacher

I enjoy it when we are able to work together to come to a resolution or a way forward."

SENCo

You have provided training that excited and inspired my staff to improve outcomes for our children.

Head Teacher

Sound knowledge of the learning and development of early years children
